

Chapter 54*TEMPORARY ACTIVITIES*54.1 RESOURCE MANAGEMENT ISSUES

The following resource management issues have been identified as significant within Napier City in respect of Temporary Activities.

54.1.1 The need to provide for temporary activities occurring in the City.

The community is generally accepting of the need for short to medium term accessory buildings and use of land where it is associated with construction and building works. Such buildings and areas of land may be necessary for temporary offices, workshops, storage sheds and yards. However, as with all buildings – whether temporary or not – the bulk and location of such buildings can have adverse effects on the surrounding environment, particularly on amenity values.

Temporary events such as, concerts, parades, festivals, meetings, exhibitions occur on a regular basis on sites throughout the City. The Plan needs to provide for such activities to recognise their contribution to the community and the City. The temporary nature of such activities, (often less than five days) generally minimises the adverse effects the event may have on the surrounding environment. Consequently, many events of short duration are tolerated by parts of the community while other members enjoy what the event has to offer.

To ensure that the number, scale and intensity of temporary events does not increase to a level beyond which the effects of the event are more than of a temporary duration and have more than a minor effect, the Council wishes to manage the effects of temporary events and their operations.

Similarly, the nature and diversity of military training exercises need to be provided for within the Plan. To ensure any adverse effects arising from military training exercises are avoided, remedied or mitigated, a set of clear parameters needs to be developed to manage the wide range of exercises that may occur from time to time within the City.

OBJECTIVES, POLICIES AND METHODS*Objective 54.2

To ensure the adverse effects of any temporary events on the environment are avoided, remedied or mitigated.

This objective relates to Issue 54.1.1.

Policies

To meet this objective the Council will:

54.2.1 Control the effects of temporary events on the environment.

54.2.2 Restrict the scale, intensity, location, duration and frequency of temporary events.

Principal Reasons for Adopting Objective and Policies

The Council recognises that temporary events may produce only effects of a limited duration. However, the Council also recognises that if left uncontrolled the effects of temporary events can be considered more than minor. Therefore the Council wishes to establish controls and maintain acceptable levels for temporary land uses that do not create a nuisance or adverse effects on areas surrounding the temporary land use.

Methods

- (1) District Plan Rules.
- (2) Council Bylaws.

Reasons for Methods

Rules in the District Plan establish the levels of temporary event land use that are appropriate throughout the City, while ensuring that adverse effects of the event on the surrounding environment are avoided, remedied or mitigated. Simultaneously, Council bylaws establish further rules for temporary events in relation to matters such as litter disposal, the sale of food, site selection etc.

54.3 ANTICIPATED ENVIRONMENTAL RESULTS

- (1) The avoidance, remedying or mitigation of adverse effects of temporary event land uses on the environment.
- (2) The occurrence of temporary events throughout the City that do not create any adverse effects on the environment.

RULES

All rules apply throughout the city but over-ride the relevant specific zone rules and district wide rules, unless otherwise stated.

54.13 PRINCIPAL REASONS FOR RULES*1. Temporary Activities Incidental to Building and Construction Works.

The occurrence of building and construction work throughout the City is widespread. Often associated with such works are temporary buildings, structures and area of land serving as storage, workspaces, offices, safety and security barriers and the like. The rule enables the temporary use of land and buildings for such purposes where they are incidental to any building or construction project. The conditions ensure that the duration of the temporary activity is finite and that in particular, any buildings and structures do not adversely affect the amenity values of the surrounding area.

2. Temporary Activities, including Carnivals, Exhibitions, Festivals, Filming, Meetings, Parades, Recycling Depots and Sporting Events

Provision has been made for the occurrence of these types of Temporary Activities, that are not otherwise provided for by Plan rules. This rule provides flexibility for a range of temporary land uses recognising the need for a range of public and private entertainment and celebratory land uses. The conditions apply as the Council recognises that there are potential adverse effects from such land uses, which need to be avoided, remedied or mitigated. The duration and frequency of such temporary events are limited to ensure that effects on the environment arising from prolonged and frequent events are avoided. These conditions also ensure that the effects on the local environment, particularly residential areas, are addressed.

3. Temporary Activities, including Concerts, Musical and Theatrical Entertainment.

The occurrence of these types of Temporary Activities is permitted provided certain conditions are met. The Council considers that the effects associated with the event, ie: effects on traffic, parking, noise, visual and amenity will be of a limited duration and therefore will be more tolerable to people. However, the frequency of such events on any one site can create adverse cumulative effects on surrounding land uses, particularly impacting on amenity values. The conditions for temporary activities such as concerts and entertainment, establish limits on the hours of operation and acceptable noise levels for the concerts and entertainment to ensure that the level and duration of these land uses does not cause more than minor adverse effects on the health, wellbeing and amenity values of the surrounding environment.

4. Temporary Military Training Exercises

Temporary military training exercises are provided for in most areas of the City as permitted activities, subject to certain conditions. Given the variety of exercises that the defence forces engage in, only a selection may have the potential to adversely effect the environment and surrounds in which the training exercises are undertaken. To ensure that any such adverse effects are appropriately managed, conditions have been imposed to limit the duration of military exercises and other effects that arise from some training exercises.

Some land uses associated with military training exercises are inherently noisy, but are of a temporary nature. Given that military training exercises are of some importance to the community in preparation for defence, emergency, and recovery purposes, temporary noise from such land uses is generally more tolerable to people.

The Plan has established limits to ensure that noise associated with temporary military training exercises does not exceed levels at given times which may cause adverse effects on the health, wellbeing and amenity values of the surrounding environment.
