Summer is the perfect time to enjoy our visitor attractions with your friends and family.

Here's our Five Fave things to do on your summer staycation:

1

Book in for a mini-break at Kennedy Park just so the kids can bounce on the legendary jumping pillow.

2

Challenge your out-of-town visitors to a mini-golf competition at Par2 MiniGolf. Whoever loses shouts lunch!

3

Take some time out from the heat and retreat to the ocean with a wander around the National Aquarium.

4

Take Grandpa to the Faraday Centre and get him talking about old times. A great way to share stories of the past with the kids and have some hands-on experiences with science and technology.

5

Grab a magazine and a coffee and chillax while the kids are letting off steam at Bay Skate. Better still grab a scooter, strap on your skates and give it a go yourself.

Old tower meets new tech

Old and new are coming together to give Napier in-depth, real-time information on water use.

The historic water tower on Thompson Road was first erected in 1910. It's been out of service for many years but now it's back in the mix providing essential water information through a cutting edge telemetry system.

Russell Bond, Manager Water Strategy, sees putting the old water tower to work as a base for new tech is a great way to breathe life into a treasured but ancient water asset.

“The water tower is a landmark. You can see it from everywhere. It's perfectly situated to pick up information and send it to our servers,” says Russell. “It's great to be able to put this heritage water asset back into good use.”

The new tech perched on the tower replaces analogue technology in place since the 1980s. Now it carries the latest in SCADA technology - Supervisory Control and Data Acquisition - bringing vital intel into the Napier City Council water team.

Our people in parks

Napier has a whole bunch of stunning parks to explore. From rose gardens to botanical gardens, secluded sanctuaries to adventure playgrounds, duck ponds to dog parks.

The people who help make these beautiful places to be, work hard throughout the year. They care for the grounds, mow the lawns, empty the bins, plan and plant garden beds, look after the public conveniences and make sure all our spaces are safe, clean and rewarding to spend time in. Some of the work they do is visible and you'll see it when you visit but much of it is behind the scenes.

Dolbel Reserve is great for a long walk, Anderson Park has an amazing playground, and if you want a picnic with a perfect view head to Lance Leikis Reserve.
